HEALTH

Grant forecast: Special Diabetes Program for Indians
Dept. Health and Human Services, Indian Health Service
Deadline: Nov. 29, 2023

Deadline: $25,000-$600,000; no match

Eligible: Native American tribal governments (Federally recognized), Native American tribal organizations (other than Federally recognized tribal governments), others

The purpose of this program is to provide diabetes treatment and/or prevention activities and/or services for American Indian/Alaska Native communities. Recipients will implement one Special Diabetes Program for Indians (SDPI) Diabetes Best Practice and report data on the Best Practice's Required Key Measure (RKM). Recipients may also implement other activities/services based on diabetes-related community needs and develop an evaluation plan. Activities/services will be aimed at reducing the risk of diabetes in at-risk individuals, providing high quality care to those with diagnosed diabetes, and/or reducing the complications of diabetes. (Note: This is a forecast. The application is estimated to become available Oct. 13, 2023.)

Forecast: Tribal Maternal, Infant, and Early Childhood Home Visiting Program

DHHS: Administration for Children and Families

Deadline: April 8, 2024 (estimated)

Eligible: Native American tribal organizations (federally recognized and other than federally recognized); non-profits and others

Funds will support 5-year cooperative agreements between ACF and federally recognized Indian tribes (or a consortium of Indian tribes), tribal organizations, or urban Indian organizations interested in developing, implementing, sustaining, or expanding an evidence-based home visiting program serving expectant families and families with young children aged birth to kindergarten. Awards will support implementation of high-quality, culturally grounded, evidence-based home visiting services to American Indian and Alaska Native (AIAN) families and children; implementation of performance measurement and continuous quality improvement systems; development of early childhood systems; and participation in research and evaluation activities to build evidence around home visiting, particularly in tribal communities. Home visiting programs are intended to promote outcomes such as improved maternal and prenatal health, infant health, and child health and development; reduced child maltreatment; improved parenting practices related to child development outcomes; improved school readiness; improved family socio-economic status; improved coordination of referrals to community resources and supports; and reduced incidence of injuries, crime, and domestic violence. (Note: this is a forecast. The estimated post date is February 8, 2024)

Grant forecast: Social and Economic Development Strategies for Alaska

Department of Health and Human Services, Administration for Children and Families

Deadline: April 22, 2024

Award: $100,000-$400,000

Eligibility: Native American tribal governments (both federally recognized and other than federally recognized), non-profits, other

The Administration for Children and Families, Administration for Native Americans announces the availability of Fiscal Year 2024 funds for the Social and Economic Development Strategies (SEDS) program. This program is focused on community-driven projects designed to grow local economies, strengthen Native American families, including the preservation of Native American cultures, and decrease the high rate of current challenges caused by the lack of community-based businesses, and social and economic infrastructure in Native American communities. Native American communities include American Indian tribes (federally-recognized and non-federally recognized), Native Hawaiians, Alaska Natives, and Native American Pacific Islanders. (Note: this is a forecast. Estimated application post date: Feb. 1, 2024).

COMMUNITY INFRASTRUCTURE

Drinking Water System Infrastructure Resilience and Sustainability Program

Environmental Protection Agency

Deadline: Nov. 6, 2023

Award: Up to $6.65M, no match

Eligible: A public water system; a water system located in an area governed by an Indian Tribe (federally recognized); a State, on behalf of an underserved community; other (see Nofo for details) EPA is soliciting applications from eligible entities for projects in underserved communities that are disadvantaged or serve a population of less than 10,000 individuals to increase drinking water system resilience to natural hazards, such as an earthquake, tornado, flood, hurricane, wildfire, drought, freezing or hydrologic change that threatens the functioning of a community water system. When considering these natural disaster threats, a public water system may take into account risks associated with climate change to ensure that resilience-building activities address future conditions such as increasing or decreasing temperatures, changes in precipitation, and, where applicable, sea-level rise. The goal of the first National Priority Area is to increase drinking water system resilience by implementing smaller-scale resilience projects informed by drinking water system plans.

Tribal Broadband Connectivity Program

Department of Commerce

Transformational Habitat Restoration and Coastal Resilience Grants Under the IJJA

Department of Commerce

Deadline: Nov. 17, 2023

Award: $1M-$25M; no match

Eligible: Native American tribal organizations (federally recognized and other than federally recognized); non-profits and others

Projects selected through this funding opportunity will have a transformative impact for coastal communities and tribes across the country. They will help sustain important fisheries, make significant strides in the recovery of threatened and endangered species, and help protect coastal communities and ecosystems from the impacts of climate change. They will support efforts such as reconnecting rivers to their historic floodplains, outplanting corals to rebuild reefs, building living shorelines that protect coasts from erosion and sea level rise, and more.

NOAA will accept proposals with a federal funding request of between $1 million and $25 million total over the award period. Applications are due by November 17, 2023.

Braiding Together Reforestation, Indigenous Partnerships, and Indian Youth Service Corps (IYSC): A Path Towards Resilient Forests and Communities

Department of Agriculture / Forest Service

Due: Nov. 17, 2023

Award: Not specified; no match required

Eligible: Eligible applicants include Federally recognized Indian Tribes or Alaska Native Tribes or Alaska Native Corporations and Native Hawaiians and Pacific Islanders.

USDA Forest Service is looking to address reforestation needs and empower the agency's implementation of the Indian Youth Service Corps (IYSC) program. This initiative aims to foster co-stewardship between USDA Forest Service, Indigenous communities, and IYSC program, with a shared commitment to environmental conservation and reforestation on Forest Service lands. New partnerships will help to address reforestation needs through projects that support reforestation or stand-up improvement activities on lands managed by USDA Forest Service. The agency seeks to actively involve IYSC program in reforestation efforts. The IYSC aims to create career and educational opportunities for Indigenous youth while fostering their cultural connections to nature through conservation projects on Tribal and public land. NOTE: This RFI is intended to solicit responses for potential partnerships and project/programs meeting the unique needs and interests of indigenous communities and mutually beneficial project with the Forest Service. While this RFI is not a direct funding opportunity nor does it guarantee funding, your submission signals an opportunity for Forest Service to explore with you your ideas/projects/programs and federal funding opportunities.

National Fish Passage Program

Department of the Interior, Fish and Wildlife Service

Deadline: Dec. 31, 2023

Award: $100,000-$2,000,000; no match

Eligible: Native American tribal organizations (federally recognized and other than federally recognized) The NFPP is a voluntary program that provides direct technical and financial assistance to partners to remove instream barriers and restore aquatic organism passage and aquatic connectivity for the benefit of Federal trust resources. In doing so, NFPP aims to maintain or increase fish populations to improve ecosystem resiliency and provide quality fishing experiences for the American people. Activities that restore fish passage also support the modernization of the country's infrastructure such as road culverts, bridges, and water diversions contributing to enhanced community resilience to the impacts from climate change and other public safety hazards. NFPP funds a variety of project types including, but not limited to, dam removals, culvert replacements, floodplain restoration, and the installation of fishways. Note: For eligible applicants to receive funding, NFPP BIL projects must be developed and implemented in coordination with FAC staff.

Wetland Program Development Grants

Environmental Protection Agency

Due: Nov. 22, 2023

Award: Up to $2,722,000; EPA will fund a maximum of 75 percent of the total project cost

Eligible: States, territories (Insular Areas), federally-recognized tribes, local government agencies, colleges and universities that are agencies of a state, interstate agencies, and intertribal consortia

The goals of EPA's wetland program include increasing the quantity and quality of wetlands in the U.S. by conserving and restoring wetland acreage and improving wetland condition. In pursuing these goals, EPA seeks to develop the capacity of all levels of government to develop and/or refine effective, comprehensive programs for wetland protection and management. In addition to developing and/or refining wetland protection and management programs, EPA seeks to build wetlands programs to incorporate climate change and environmental justice considerations as described in Section 1.C.2.a: Climate Change and Section 1.C.2.b: Justice40 (J40).

Coastal Habitat Restoration and Resilience Grants for Tribes and Underserved Communities

Department of Commerce

Due: Dec. 19, 2023

Award: $75,000-$3,000,000

Eligible: States, nonprofits, Native American tribal governments (both federally recognized and not), small businesses, others

The principal objective of this funding opportunity is to support opportunities for tribes, and/or tribal entities, and underserved communities to meaningfully engage in coastal habitat restoration activities. Potential activities include: 1) Capacity building, which may include (but is not limited to) participation in municipal or regional-scale resilience planning, project planning and feasibility studies, stakeholder engagement, proposal development for future funding, and outreach and education, as well as hiring of staff to increase capacity to support the planning, design and implementation of restoration actions, as well as capacity to support overall award management including tracking, reporting, and project coordination/development; 2) actionable science support, such as the collection and/or analysis of climate, habitat or other community- or conservation-related data that informs planning and decision making and/or future restoration actions of tribes, tribal entities, and/or underserved communities; and/or 3) restoration project activities, including for demonstration projects, which may include engineering and design, permitting, on-the-ground restoration, and pre- and post-project implementation monitoring. Competitive applications will directly benefit tribes or underserved communities. Applicants may apply for funding to support one or more of these activities.

Alaska Native and Native Hawaiian Culture and Arts Development Grant Program

Department of the Interior, National Park Service

Deadline: Oct. 27, 2023

Award: $150,000-$750,000; no match

Eligibility: Native American tribal organizations (other than federally recognized tribal governments), non-profits, other

Grants will enhance culture and art programs, including traditional and contemporary expressions of language, history, visual and performing arts, and crafts. Programs may 1. provide scholarly study of, and instruction in, Alaska Native and Native Hawaiian traditional and contemporary arts and culture, 2. establish centers and educational programs that lead to degrees in Alaska Native and Native Hawaiian art and culture programs, and/or 3. establish programs that develop traditional and contemporary arts in the community through coordinate efforts to preserve, support, revitalize, and develop evolving forms of Indian art and culture.

Examples include: Departments of Arts and Sciences, fellowship programs, seminars, scholar in residence, inter-institutional programs of cooperation at national and international levels, visual arts, performance arts, language, literature, museology, and learning resource centers.

Public Engagement with Historical Records

National Archives and Records Administration

Deadline: Nov. 2, 2023 (draft deadline Aug. 15, 2023)

Award: $50,000-$150,000; 25% match

The National Historical Publications and Records Commission seeks projects that encourage public engagement with historical records. The idea behind this program is to form collaborations among archivists, educators, historians (including documentary editors) and people working in community-based archives to involve the public in discovering and using historical records. The NHPRC is looking for collaborative projects that create models, tools, and technologies that other institutions can freely adopt to serve other communities. Projects that center the voices and document the history of Black, Indigenous, and People of Color are especially welcome. In addition, with the 250th anniversary of the Declaration of Independence approaching, the Commission is interested in projects that promote discovery and access to collections that explore the ideals behind our nation's founding and the continuous debate over those ideals to the present day.

Native American/Native Hawaiian Museum Services

Institute of Museum and Library Services

Deadline: Nov. 15, 2023

Award: $5,000-$250,000; no match

Eligible: A federally recognized Indian tribe or a nonprofit organization that primarily serves and represents Native Hawaiians.

The Native American/Native Hawaiian Museum Services (NANH) grant program is designed to support Indian tribes and organizations that primarily serve and represent Native Hawaiians in sustaining indigenous heritage, culture, and knowledge. The program supports projects such as exhibitions, educational services and programming, workforce professional development, organizational capacity building, and collections stewardship.

Public Humanities Projects

National Endowment for the Humanities

Deadline: Jan. 11, 2023

Award: $1-$1,000,000

Eligible: Native American tribal governments (Federally recognized), nonprofits, others
The Public Humanities Projects program supports projects that engage humanities scholarship to analyze significant themes in disciplines such as history, literature, ethics, and art history. Public Humanities Projects supports projects in three categories (Exhibitions, Historic Places, and Humanities Discussions), and at two funding levels (Planning and Implementation). Project topics may be international, national, regional, or local in focus, but locally focused projects should address topics that are of regional or national relevance by drawing connections to broad themes or historical questions. Small and mid-sized organizations are especially encouraged to apply. Also welcomed are humanities projects tailored to particular groups, such as families, youth (including K-12 students in informal educational settings), underserved communities, and veterans.

Grant forecast: Sustaining Cultural Heritage Collections

National Endowment for the Humanities

Deadline: Jan. 11, 2024 (estimated)

Award: Up to $350,000; no match

Eligibility: Native American tribal governments (Federally recognized), nonprofits
The Sustaining Cultural Heritage Collections program helps cultural institutions meet the complex challenge of preserving large and diverse holdings of humanities materials for future generations by supporting environmentally sustainable preventive care measures that mitigate deterioration, prolong the useful life of collections, reduce energy consumption, and strengthen institutional resilience to disasters resulting from current and future effects of climate change or human activity. Note: this is a forecast opportunity.

Grant Forecast: Preservation Assistance Grants for Smaller Institutions

National Endowment for the Humanities

Deadline: Jan. 11, 2024 (estimated)

Award: Up to $10,000

Eligibility: Native American tribal governments (Federally recognized); nonprofits
The Preservation Assistance Grants for Smaller Institutions program helps small and mid-sized institutions improve their ability to preserve and care for their significant humanities collections. Note: this is a forecast opportunity.

Native American Language Preservation and Maintenance-Esther Martinez Immersion

Dept. of Health and Human Services, Admin. for Children and Families

Deadline: March 31, 2024

Award: $100,000-$300,000; 20% match required

Eligible: Native American tribal governments (Federally recognized and other than Federally recognized tribal governments), nonprofits, others

The program provides funding for community-based projects that ensure continuing vitality of Native languages through immersion-based instruction. Programs funded under the EMI notice of funding opportunity must meet the requirements for either a Native American Language Nest, or a Native American Survival School. Language Nests are "site-based educational programs that- (i) provide instruction and child care through the use of a Native American language for at least 5 children under the age of 7 for an average of at least 500 hours per year per student," and Native American Survival Schools are "site-based educational programs for school-age students that- (i) provide an average of at least 500 hours of instruction through the use of 1 or more Native American languages for at least 10 students for whom a Native American language survival school is their principal place of instruction."

Grant forecast: Tribal Self-Governance Planning Cooperative Agreement Program Department of Health and Human Services, Indian Health Service

Deadline: May 1, 2024 (estimated)

Award: $180,000

Eligible: Native American tribal organizations (Federally recognized and other than federally) The purpose of this Planning Cooperative Agreement is to provide resources to Tribes interested in entering the TSGP and to existing Self-Governance Tribes interested in assuming new or expanded PSFAs. Title V of the ISDEAA requires a Tribe or Tribal organization (T/TO) to complete a planning phase to the satisfaction of the Tribe. The planning phase must include legal and budgetary research and internal Tribal government planning and organizational preparation relating to the administration of health care programs. See 25 U.S.C. 5383(d). The planning phase is critical to negotiations and helps Tribes make informed decisions about which PSFAs to assume and what organizational changes or modifications are necessary to successfully support those PSFAs. A thorough planning phase improves timeliness and efficient negotiations and ensures that the Tribe is fully prepared to assume the transfer of IHS PSFAs to the Tribal health program. (Note: this is a forecast. The estimated post date is February 1, 2024)
